

So That You Will See Me

WRITTEN AND ILLUSTRATED BY HIROMU AONO
ENGLISH TRANSLATION BY BRYAN J. SMITH

There's a bear on a small planet who likes to look up at the sky.

A bear is standing on a snowy, flat landscape under a dark blue night sky. The bear is looking up at a large, glowing blue planet in the sky. The sky is filled with stars and a crescent moon. The bear is standing on the right side of the frame, looking towards the left.

For some reason, he can't sleep tonight.
He looks at the sky. Usually, he's asleep and dreaming right now.

That's when he sees a very pretty, blue planet.

"Could there be someone on that planet?
Maybe they're looking over here."

"I want to let them know that I'm here," he thinks.
